

Julius Tsai serves as Cultural Affairs Officer at Embassy Tbilisi. He previously served in the Operations Center - the State Department's 24/7 crisis and communications center in Washington, D.C.; at the U.S. Embassy in Manila; and at the U.S. Embassy in Beijing. Julius speaks Mandarin, Taiwanese, French, German, Japanese, Tagalog, and Georgian; he has also studied Classical Chinese, Biblical Greek, and Latin. Before joining the Foreign Service Julius was a professor of East Asian religions at Temple University, San Diego State University, and Texas Christian University. He holds a B.A. in History from Swarthmore College, an M.Div. in Theology from Harvard University, and a Ph.D. in East Asian Religions from Stanford University. Julius hails from California and is married to Anny Chuan, an elementary and special education teacher. They have two daughters, Mikayla and Mathilda, who are students at QSI International School of Tbilisi.